

COCCYX GEL SUPPORT (SQUARE TYPE)

ABOUT THE PRODUCT

A square coccyx gel support is a specialized cushion designed to provide pressure relief for the tailbone (coccyx) and lower spine. It typically features a cut-out or U-shaped relief area at the back to suspend the coccyx, preventing direct pressure on the sensitive bone when sitting. Made from a durable gel, often combined with foam, the square shape provides ample surface area for overall seating comfort and stability. This support is highly effective for individuals with tailbone pain, sciatica, post-surgical recovery, or anyone who sits for long periods.

BENEFITS

- Designed to relieve pressure on the tailbone (coccyx)
- Square gel structure for stable and even weight distribution
- Helps reduce discomfort during long sitting hours

HOW TO USE

- Place the support on your chair with the gel side facing up.
- Sit so your tailbone rests over the center of the gel pad.
- Adjust until you feel comfortable pressure relief and support.
